

Berger queen

Bouquets to comic Rachel Berger for not only selling out her debut theatre piece, Hold the Pickle, but extending her season at La Mama. Berger said before the show opened she was uncertain of her theatre credentials, despite 20 years on stage. But reviews for her character-driven story of her parents' survival of World War II and early Australian experiences have been glowing.

Herald Sun, June 27, 2008